A sob came up

The other day
I stood and watched as the marching band played
And a sob came up
From deep inside and i couldn't talk
I stood still and refused to walk
Away
Because it was ok
When a sob came up
Late one night
I held my baby close and joyful and content
a sob came up
There's something in the way she moves played on the radio
There sometimes is nowhere to hide, no need to go
And so i held her tight
And a sob came up
Just today
I watched my son pump his fist in the air
He lives his life as if he hasn't a care
In the world
And then i wonder
Will he even be in love with a girl
And can he ever know just how perfect he is
And dizzy
A sob came up
I choked it back and continued to observe
It's always my boy who touches deep that nerve
And through my smile
A sob
A sob came up
