

711-1000
All day

It used to be that
All day you were on my mind
Every leaf that fell in fall
Was there to remind me
Sometimes you confined me
It wasn't your intent
But your memory i grew to resent
I needed to forget
The day we met
Our last sunset
Together
Whether you know this or not
Has no meaning
And if these decades later
I tell you that
All day
You were on my mind
You were heavy on my chest
That the days we spent
Were my very best
It would mean little to you
Over time
And there's no crime
In not caring
And i'm not daring you to change the past
For nothing in this world can last
But these are my final words to you
And every one of them is true
That all day
You were on my mind
