Ambition

I have one ambition
Now that the work is done
Now that i'm in a moment
To sit quiet in the sun
To breath a breath so deeply
Now that's a worthy goal
To nurture every corner
Of my spirit and my soul
To dance around a maypole
And care not how it seems
To sit and watch the swaying trees
And smile at daydreams
To sip a cup of coffee
Oh what a day that makes
To float down any river
And glide across the lakes
These and many others
Are the things i want to do
Each morning see me rising
In joy each day anew
But i have just one ambition
In this life of mine
And i'm feeling so delighted i'm feeling mighty fine
My ambition is to love
More deeply than words can say
To love those around me
To hold them precious everyday
My ambition is to love
It's all that matters now
I hope that you will join me i'm sure we'll soon know how
