And i have A song to write

I have a song to write, i want you to hear my rhyme
It's a song about love, a song that will not be limited by time
It's a song about the coming spring, warm winds and thunder rains
A song about autumn leaves, wind blown washing down sidewalk drains

I have a song to write, i want you to hear me sing
It's a song about love, isn't that just everything
It's a song about skies so gray that all is muted 'gainst the cloud
A song about prayers spoken for all to hear true and loud

I have a song to write, i want you to hear my call
It's a song about love, that love will save us all
It's a song about my sweet sweet son, whose heart is pure
A song about all those things about which i am entirely sure

I have a song to write, and i want you to hear To see
And To sing with me
And To sing with me
A song I will write just for you
A song i wish everyone knew
To sing with me
With me
