Beautiful souls

Who are these beautiful people, these transcendent souls
Where do they come from, their luminescence behold
They shine like the brightest star in the night sky
And what do we do when these perfect ones die

How do we put one foot in front of the other
How do we lend comfort to a father or mother
And How do we convey the depth of our grief
That these most beautiful one's time on this earth was too brief

But just as we may feel lost in despair
When we search for some meaning, when it's too much to bear
We realize that beautiful souls never leave
Forever they give us hope to believe

For these magical spirits live on in each heart
They help pick us up when things fall apart
They provide us with hope when the world feels so bleak
They provide us with strength when we're weary and weak

You see the most beautiful ones are forever and ever
It's the love they embody that each of us treasure
And even as we remain shattered in sorrow
We know that we will be able to face each tomorrow
