Believe it or don't (it matters not really)

Believe it or don't
It really matters not
Your perception and conception
Is pretty much all you've got
I might even accuse you
Of never having an original thought
Or when you do
It's mostly just about you
There's veil of myth you can't see through
That's why you're admired by so few
Believe it or don't

Believe it or don't
I couldn't really care less
It's your inability to see the truth
That has you in this mess
Made by you
Built by you
No one else to blame
It's just because you seek out fame
No matter what the cost
Or you're so lost
So lost
Believe it or don't

Believe it don't
But leave me alone
Don't email, don't text
Don't call me on the phone
And please for god's sake
Your bad luck you needn't bemoan
You made this house
Brick by brick
Each and every lie so thick
And now you're stuck, there is no trick to get loose
And I refuse
I refuse The rescue
You're on your own kid
Believe it or not
