Beyond the tears

What is there
Beyond the tears
Past the heartbreak that buries fears
Past the sorrow that burns hot in my throat
Beyond the words of those songs that i wrote
Is it about love so dear
Is it because we live on the edge of time
Neither far nor near
And beyond the tears

What is there
Beyond the tears
Past the cold and aching blue
Past the days and years without you
A universe away
Never anything to say
Is it because when we wish on the light of a distant star
It doesn't feel all that far away
And yet that twinkle we can never hear
For even it lies beyond the tears

What is there
Beyond the tears
Past the numbness and the pain
Past the anger and disdain
Beyond all i can conceive
Sometimes i wake but disbelieve
That tears like mine will e'er relieve me
These tears
Do they deceive me
And still i cannot believe my ears
For i wonder what might exist
Beyond the tears
