Clarity beneath

There is clarity beneath
The thin veneer
And yet we steer our ship
Toward the icy sea

There is clarity beneath
The ancient map
And still we strap ourselves in
And hit the tree

There is clarity beneath
Our constant yearning
if we're unlearning lessons
Taught by the sick

There is clarity beneath
A cloudy day
When we can say we know
What makes us tick

For me the clearest moments are the ones that I can share
All my observations with another and not care
How the way i see things will be used of me to judge
They're simply observations, there's no need to begrudge

For me the clearest moments are the ones that leave me light
Stepping back from feelings i no longer have to fight
I think that that's the gift to my children i bequeath
The knowledge that forever there is clarity beneath
