When you send me an email that leave me feeling blue
I can see all that you think about is you
My days are numbered, I'd rather feel lousy for just a few

I delete you

Out of sight means out of mind

I got no time for unkind

I'm 55 time to unwind

When you drain my batteries and think only of yourself
Don't you know that is truly bad for my mental health
Go ahead and text and with all secret stealth

How many questions will you ask of me today

How many times do you expect me to say

I have to avoid dealing and the most effective way
