Speak your mind

Never be afraid to
Speak your mind
Unless you think
You might be fined
Because money holds
More sway than truth
And in your eye
You might find a tooth
If you so much
As speak your mind
By those words
You'll be defined
And on the streets
That look and point
And you self-righteous
They will anoint
So hold your tongue
And just shut up
Better lies
And a full cup
Than honest thoughts
Leave you behind
And so i say
Don't speak your mind
