Every dentist's Office

Every dentist's office has the same decor
Greenish paint, flowers and a shiny tiled floor
Rooms that reek of alcohol and bright florescent lights
Reclining chairs for root canals and to fix those overbites

Every dentist's office reminds me of the marathon man
Is it safe he drilled the hole and off young hoffman ran
Sadism elevated to a higher craft
Why we sit down in those chairs makes me think we're daft

Every dentist's office is a cookie cutter box
Men in scary face masks and assistants wearing smocks
Rinse and spit and try not get that goop onto your clothes
I'm fearful that this fella's gonna use the drill bit on my nose

Every dentist's office is a place of evil deeds
Why is it the only time my gums like a faucet bleeds
And after all the grinding and the drilling are finally done
I have to pay a thousand bucks - oh wow this is fun
