I don't know how to say this without sounding too pathetic
I know that things between us are quite far from copasetic
I hope you don't think what i say gives me a lot of gaul
But here's my new number, please feel free to call

I understand i cheated and then treated you like shit
You took a lot of grief from me before you finally quit
But if you can get past that stuff I'd really like to ball
So here's my new number, please feel free to call

It's funny how attraction can trump logic in a sec
One moment we're resolved and strong, and then it's what the heck
I guess that's a helpful role that's played by alcohol
Anyway, here's my new number, please feel free to call

Feel free to call
I really hope you will
I am very lonely
I think i love you still
OK I admit that's just a line
For which i hope you fall
I know i am such a jerkb
Bue please feel free to call
