Fingerprints

Do we leave our fingerprints on life
Is there something left behind that we can always see
Do we leave our fingerprints on life
Or once we're gone is there no more i and no more me

Do we leave our fingerprints on love
Is there something traceable and still hot to the touch
Do we leave our fingerprints on love
Or is that immortality asking god to do too much

Do we leave our fingerprints on each other's hearts
Is there something tangible that an xray would detect
Do we leave our fingerprints on love
Or once we're gone is there nothing left there to connect

Do we leave our fingerprints on time
Is there something endless that our consciousness convey
Do we leave our fingerprints on time
Or are we only present in each moment and today
