

527-1000
Harwood strong

Look at all of the people, so many of them came I'm one of the multitude, yet no one knows my name
Look at all the families, it's graduation day
The sun is shining bright and hot, the kids are set to play
Look at all the seniors, in robe yellow and black Hopeful for the future, nary looking back
Look at all the parents, smiles true abound now look a little closer and there's more that will be found

Look into an eye, peer into a heart
You will see so many who in grief still torn apart
It won't lurk at the surface, and there is no silent pall
But holding hands with beauty are the memories of last fall
Autumn in the valley, mountains rainbow red
An autumn like none e'er before, so many tears were shed
And while summer sunlight dances, dappled on the lawn
Hearts still yearn to hold once more the five who now are gone

And Standing by the shade tree and listening to them speak
I wonder how they stand so tall when my knees feel so weak
Five beautiful children, remembered by the throng
And hundreds who while shattered still remaining harwood strong and maybe they all feel the same, for each other carry on Mournful in the gloaming but still ready for the dawn
And maybe that's the story of how this place is made
Holding close each other's hearts, a love that will not fade

Maybe ive been harwood strong, harwood strong all along
Maybe what makes me harwood strong is that with you all im pressing on Maybe we've all been harwood strong, harwood strong all along
Maybe we all are ever harwood strong

The ceremony's ended, the graduates march out
The families snap their pictures, they've graduates to tout
The parties are beginning, the peepers start to croon
It's Summer and the lilac bushes compliment the tune
And as i drive away from here, some emptiness creeps in Silence and solitude replace the ceremony's din but somehow deep inside i know with you we all belong
For everywhere we're carried by those who are hardwood strong

Maybe ive been harwood strong, harwood strong all along
Maybe what makes me harwood strong is that with you all im pressing on
Maybe we've all been harwood strong, harwood strong all along
Maybe we all are ever harwood strong,
for all that love is never gone
for all that love is never gone