

622-1000
Hopeless sometimes

Ever have the feeling that dead ends abound
Nothing feels easy, you're just spinning round and round
Trying to maintain the facade it's all ok
When all you really want to do is simply go away

Ever see the sunset in it's pastel burning red
And despite the beauty you're just climbing back into bed
You cannot do the simple things, they seem like giant tasks
You yearn for days when you carried relief inside a flask

Hopeless sometimes
I must admit i feel
Hopeless sometimes
It's not the bad in the world
It's not that i lost another girl
It just is, hopeless sometimes

Ever wonder why you came back for one more year
You had the chance to finally up and disappear
Living for an image is an errand by a fool
Eventually we all fall down no matter how damned cool