How much I

How much i is too much i
And is we really a lie
I weep for me when i cry
I weep for me when i die
How much i is too much i

How much i know you will change
That's why change aint all that strange
One day sane, the next deranged
Every day i know you'll change

How much i now cease to care
I know life ain't all that fair
We say hope and we say share
But in the end the truth i dare
For i my heart for me i wear

I
