

892-1000
I like the ideas

I like the ideas
Of freedom, of peace
When those who have the most
Give to those who have the least
Without coercion
With joyful consent
I like the ideas
Of justice and truth
When searching for what's right
Doesn't take a sleuth
Or a saint
Or a martyr
I like the ideas
Of sisterhood and love
Not compelled
By any forces from above
But easy
And natural
I like all of these ideas
And i wish they were so
But sometimes i am feel forced
To let it go
And to circle the wagons
Around family and friend
And hold them close
And care for them the most
But such a world
Leave so much in doubt
For without
The ideas that i like
We may be in for a long long ride