

901-1000
I owe them my life

It's no exaggeration
It may seem extreme
But all the people i have known
All that i have seen
The haters and the doubters
And Those who love me still
The ones who gave me purpose
Or perhaps someday will
The children on the soccer pitch
Actors in forrest gump
And even assholes like
Our current president trump
It's they who fill my mind and
Keep me busy and on the path
It's they who fill my heart and
Sometimes make me feel some wrath
And each of them has played a part
And others still to come
They open up my soul and
Help me cry when i feel numb
I know it may sound trite
And i don't ask that you believe
But all that have brought me joy
And for all that id do grieve
I owe them all my life
My full life
I am here because of them
The women and the men
The aged and the children
All
I owe them my life
Because they keep me ever moving forward
Ever journeying on
And so i end this song by saying

Grace
Grace
