I signed the form

I signed the form, crossed the t's
I paid the bureaucratic fees
I never once held one regret
Didn't feel i owed a debt

Then i waited every day
When the time will come i pray
The letter that will set me free
No longer married legally

Will i put it in a frame
To hide it would be such a shame
I wanted the whole world to know
To wear it proud where 'er i go

That i was single once again
A fraternity of men
Unencumbered on my own
A new world waiting to be shown

And so i hit the town with joy
The giddyness of a young boy
Ready to find love once more
With someone i did not abhor

But herein lies my sorry state
For true love it sit and wait
Turns out my wife was my best shot
Alone and single's all ive got

And so i share with caution this
From the lonely man's abyss
Work hard so that your love will last
And Do not sign that form so fast
