I'm ready for the weekend

I'm ready for the weekend, even though i'm 55
It's not like i'm gonna party, i probably wouldn't survive
Just one shot of tequila or a beer bong, remember those
I'm ready for the weekend and my weekend repose

I'll watch a little star trek, i tend to favor kirk
I'll clean up my apartment and do a bunch of work
I'll eat a lot of chocolate and take a nap or two
But you won't find me sipping on any alcoholic brew

I may go out to starbucks if i'm feeling really strong
I'll wear my leather jacket and bring my guitar along
I want to be a badass in the most dramatic way
But i'm 55 and jewish and that demands a big oiy vey

I'm ready for the weekend and for a little rest
But i guess i'll spend a bunch of time correcting the last test
I'm finding these day vexing, i think it's time to move on
I'm ready for the weekend, before the weekends all are gone
