in case you don't

In case you don't know, I feel fine
I don't need that glass of wine
Sure i have my moments clear
But i will pass on the mug of beer
And here's another passing thought
I'll say no to your bowl of pot
Not that i care either way
If you like those things that's ok
But i believe that going numb
At least for me is really dumb
I need to feel, and deeply too
I need to feel my love for you
And my heartache, even though
When i feel it hurts me so
But this is what makes us real
We're human and we need to feel
We need to laugh and need to weep
To feel that desperation deep
So in case you don't know me well
I don't mind my times in hell
In the end i make it through
For that's what human beings dp
