It's all just a grand show

Racing along at breakneck speed
The dark rollercoaster doing its deed
Makes me want to jump off i concede
But i must remember it all just a show
My life's an amusement wherever i go
No one can predict what's around the next turn
No truth or relative untruths i discern
But here is the point
Clarity prevails
The dark rollercoaster is fueled by all of my fears
If i believe it i'll end up in tears
So hang on just hang on and all will be grand
And back on firm grounding someday i will stand
