It's not just me

It's not just me who feels this way
Do You understand what im saying
Don't blame me for calling you out
I am not betraying
A confidence or what is right
Secrets always kill
It's not just me who feels this way
You are very ill

Its not just me who feels this way
The consensus is you're wrong
I'm beginning to realize
It's been like this all along
The filters that you have in place
Obscure what is real
It's not just me who feels this way
That's how we all now feel

It's not just me who feels this way
The verdict's finally in
Shameless, Concentered all in self
You die when you don't win
Measured by the outside world
The spotlight is your god
It's not just me who feels this way
We all knowingly nod

It's not just me who feels this way
You've made yourself so clear
Underneath that wall of pomp
Lives a man in fear
When your time upon the earth
Is up, you're laid to rest
Like scrooge's end we'll laugh and cheer
That day will be our best

The saddest part about this tale
Is the narcissist must always fail
He clamors for attention thus
But no one can he really trust
Alone inside his heart he dwells
A heart so black, it never swells
Alone he lives in castle's rock
Quint's dolls eyes meme, a soulless shark
