

9-1000
James Taylor

I love James Taylor because his songs rip me wide
I choke back the tears, on his country road
This is something to you and only you I confide
On the 1st of December covered with snow

There's something in the way he sings that softens my heart and overwhelmed by the past I sit grieving Always have the sorrow and joy on my mind
Showers of love misperceiving

I need James Taylor because I am powerless against him
Silent friend throughout every season
His songs cut me deep and get under my skin and I hate him for that very same reason
