Join us

Join us, won't you
We're going to have such fun
Singing and dancing
Until the rising sun
Join us won't you
The pagans lead the way
Twirling round the maypole
Until the break of day
Join us, won't you
Walking arm in arm
Dedicated to the belief
To never do such harm
Join us, won't you
Political we're not
Just trying to feel things honestly
Each other's all we've got

Think about it
If just for a moment brief
It's our shared sadness
It's our shared grief
That brings us closest to
That thing called grace
Where we never see
An enemy face

So join us, but not in joy
Not in anger and not to fight
Join us as we weep together
For that is what will bind us tight
