Just my opinion

This may just be my opinion
And maybe i am wrong
But i've kept this bottled up inside
For far too long
I've pretended and danced
My way around this truth
For telling you what i really thought
Would somehow be uncouth

This may just be my opinion
And you may disagree
But one cannot understand this trip
If the heart can't see
I've listened to the so called seers such brilliant thinkers all yet none of them have solved a thing
And humanity may fall

You see what i think is so
What i now know to be real
Is that we cannot solve in our heads
What we were meant to feel
So it may be my opinion
But i've been at this thing for years
But The wisdom of the ages
Lives inside our tears
