Keep your secrets

Keep your secrets to yourself
I have no interest in hearing those tales
Even if my nature is to pry
In the end your secrets will make me cry
And fairly you will ask me why
Why did i beg you to tell me your truth
So you are right, you are right
And keep your secrets
Hidden and quiet
I will never query thus
I promise not to make a fuss
And i trust
That you will think of me when
You tell your secrets to other men
And maybe you will tell a lie
And create an image i won't defy
Of the man i wish i was
But because
I'm not
Please
Keep your secrets
And i'll keep mine
