Let me in

Can you let me in
I know it won't be easy
I know you like to hide your heart
It's safer to remain apart
Sometimes it's like there's nowhere to start
Can you let me in

Can you let me in
I know it can be scary
And i can't promise it won't hurt
When love's involved, with sorrow flirt
I guess i wish you would convert
Can you let me in

Can you let me in
I can't promise you anything
There will be times you may feel hate
And I understand your choice to wait
But risking all we can create
Can you let me in

Can you let me in
I'm just talking to myself
Alone a man upon the shelf
Drifting through in quiet stealth
So dan, can you let me in
