Let's not say all

All of you who voted for Trump are not thinking straight
Don't you get his entire being is suffused with hate
Don't you see you're falling prey to his greatest scam of all
That in order to great again, others must take the fall

Ok, let's not say all
That's not fair
That's a bit of a stretch
But hell i don't care
I'm afraid we are not seeing
Clearly through the haze
Ok i won't say all right now
But i will one of these days

All of you who think the climate change is a hoax
A ruse perpetrated on the masses like some Louis cK jokes
Don't you get that science is objective in its view
That if we don't get our shit together we'll have to pay our due

All of you who believe that god doesn't like gays
Let me count the absurdity of your bigoted ways
Just come out and say it, you find homosexuality weird
Whatever, that's your choice, but don't make laws to justify your fear
