Neon signs

For some reason i cannot explain
I love neon signs
The pink flamingo at the entrance to the bar
I look for it every night driving by in my car
And the the champagne glass tilted on its side
Yellow neon bubbles flicker on a window wide
You see the night is much easier, it moves by quicker
When i see that neon flickering, hissing
Smiling and wagging its finger at me
Come on in
