Nibbling a little

When i tell you that i will be nibbling just a little
That i'm trying really hard to watch my weight
When i tell you that i won't be eating all that chocolate
That i'm trying to look good to get a date
When i tell you that my waistline needs some receding
That 36 is not a number that i like
When i tell that you tomorrow i'll begin to exercise
That i'm heading out and buying a new bike

Roll your eyes
Laugh at my lies
Nod support
No need to retort
You know the truth
T'would be uncouth
To laugh at me
When i decree

That i'll be nibbling just a little here tonight
That i'll be eating only salad and so light
That i'll be making every effort to stick with kale
No need to laugh out loud at my tall tale

I'm on a diet
I don't buy it
Godiva but it
Cannot defy it

Please pass the butter!
