No reason good enough

There's no reason good enough
Despite what many think
No reason good enough
To have another drink
No reason good enough
To stumble your way home
It's The sins of all our fathers
For which we must atone

There's no reason good enough
To say the things you do
Can you see my shattered heart
It's not all about you
Please just sit a listen
Hold me as i weep
Maybe you will figure out
It's my heart you should keep

There is no reason good enough
No matter what you say
If i had one wish granted
Just one wish for today
It would be that each of us
Would hold our souls out bare
And vulnerable to our core all humanness we'd share

And that's reason enough
Reason enough to strive for
