

889-1000
Nobody ever does

Why do they say
Speak now
Or forever hold your peace
Its seems that
Nobody ever does
Is that because
They think all is good and right
And so they keep their lips shut tight
Or more likely
They've made their peace with all that could go wrong
And when things fall apart they say
I knew it all along
All along
Perhaps, perhaps not
And knowing the future probably costs a lot, y'know
Why do we
Complain behind another's back
When they say to us in earnest
Just tell us how you truly feel
I suppose Such honesty is rarely real
For we're afraid of hatred's fangs
It leaves us with such deep pangs, Of longing
To be loved
Why do we hide
Why do we lurk in shadows, ne'er to confide
Why do we run
When we can always choose the sun
The stories that we see and hear
Paint a picture of such terrible fear
Such fear
And thus we do what so many do
We remain quiet, we dare not speak
Because
Nobody ever does
Though i will say that is not the way i want to live my life
So hear me, Hear me
This nobody will shout to the stars above
LOVE!
I speak now
