

593-1000

Passing merrily through

I have made a decision
I'll share with you today
I have no more room for drama
Hatred or misery
All my friends who need to argue
Fight and disagree
With a hug and well wishes
Please just let me be
I was born an open book
My pages now are frayed
And this thing on my shoulders
For some time has heavy weighed
But here me now and please respect
My choice to not engage
I know you all have many battles
You will choose to wage
But here is what i think of all
The vitriol and hate
I think that it's a waste of time
To constantly debate
So here is me loving plea
Coming from me to you
Leave me be and let me dance
For i'm just merrily passing through