promise me one thing

promise me one thing, when you leave me behind that it wasn't because i wasn't kind that a better man you couldn't find but by love you just didn't want to be defined promise me one thing, when you marry again that you won't compare me to other men that you'll always call me your best friend and my reputation you will defend promise me one thing, when you walk away that you don't have anything bad to say you'll tell your friends i was a damn good lay despite the fact that you think i'm gay please, please promise me you know my greatest fear is to perceive the world against me bad things i cannot hear i know our love affair is ending in a mess please promise me one thing that you'll say he did his best
