Real bad problem

I have a real bad problem
It's probably the worst you've ever heard
I have a real bad problem
There's no way i'll ever be cured
I have a real bad problem
It's an itch that can't be scratched
I have a real bad problem
That's why i'm unattached

What is this problem you wonder
Is it some fungus
Do i have dry leprosy
The only one among us
Perhaps i am a sociopath
Not an ounce of empathy
Or a jailbird running from the law
Counting the days that i am free

Maybe it's my liver
Or maybe it's my spleen
Maybe i have a tumor
The biggest you've ever seen
I have a real bad problem
And it's not simply coffee breath
I have a real bad problem
And i'll have it til my death

This is my problem and this is my curse
I'm not the last but i'm also not the first
This is my problem and you'd never ever tell
My problem is i have an overdeveloped sense of smell
I smell dirty feet and i have to run away
I smell bad perfume and my nose i must obey
I'm single in part because my olfactory runs on high
This is a real bad problem, i'll have it til i die
