

237-1000
The rearview mirror

Here's the cliché
Another song to play

Lookin in the rearview mirror
I see a life that has passed me by
At 54 when i think of the time i have left
It makes me wonder why

Oh how trite
Melodrama light

Lookin in the rearview mirror
I see a youth that made no sense
And so i killed the pain and pretended
But never really took a chance

Oh my lord
A minor chord

Lookin in the rearview mirror
I wish i had it to do over again
Not sure i'd be able to change things up
But anything would be better than...

What i've got now
Where i am today
I never could vow
I'll try it your way
