

392-1000
Remember My Name

I don't know why you're here, you look so strange to me
And I long for you to tell me that someday I will be free
I see you don't belong here, and I hope you won't defame
I don't know if i can make it, can i just tell you my name

My family doesn't know where I am and how i live
I've been away a decade and i need them to forgive
And even though I've spent a lifetime living here in such shame
I'm begging you, remember me, and now this is my name

Do you see I am a man, i've loved and i have lost
I'm desperate for my freedom, i've paid such a heavy cost
I know that there is little hope in casting any blame
I'm disappearing slowly, just don't forget my name

Before you leave my brother i have one more thing to show
You see here on this paper, this is what you must know
I'm sorry for demanding, i know this isn't why you came
But see here where I'm pointing, see here this is my name!

Remember me
I suppose i may die alone
For my crimes i did atone
Just Remember me
Remember my name, my name