

693-1000
Reminiscence

I'm thinking back
All the time i'm thinking back
I think i see a simpler day
When i could still go and play
But my mind plays tricks on me you see
The past was not all joyfully
The thing that i recall when asked
To remember
To remember
Reminiscence
Even the word is colored hues of pink
Reminiscence
Magically we forget i think
The darkness that surrounded us
We ne'er want to admit and thus
Instead of what our lives true felt
We bluff,ignore what we were dealt
And we selective say how sweet it is
And how sweet it was
Cuz
No one wants to hear that we
Despite our glow have ne'er felt so free
But in this song i do decree
The gloaming of my past, you see
And future hold what future hold
Stories as of now untold
Perhaps there will be moments rare
In sunrise come fleet feeling fair
Our hearts and souls we will lay bare
Just one breath
One perfect breath
And then we can say
Today
reminiscence