Roger that

Sometimes i say roger that
But it's not entirely where i'm at
I just say it to get along
Avoidance makes me feel less strong
But i don't always care that much
When you obsess about thus and such
Like please turn off all the lights
Or make sure the doors are all slammed tight
I salute and say roger that
I'm just trying to avoid a spat
And so i bow to your control
It's not really a rabbit hole
For of my eye roll i'm aware
And deep down i don't really care
But i'll avoid any tit for tat
And simply say roger that
I've done it for half a century
It's part of who i call me
You made it hard to relax you know
Perhaps that's one reason i tend to go
Even when i visit home
After a few minutes i tend to roam
Down to the mall for a cup of black
And dont you know i have the knack
When you ask another thing of me
The only way to true be free
Is not an eye lash to even bat
And just to utter roger that
