Sometimes ya just know

I know it
I just know it
I can't really explain why
i feel it my bones
I see it in the sky
The tea leaves shout and scream
My gut is in a knot
I know it
I just know it
It's more than just a thought
A feeling
A vibration
I know without a word
And others seem to sense it
Even though they haven't heard
A thing
I've kept it quiet
I don't want to be alone
But i know it
I just know it
And when i say it
I will not feel the need
To atone
To change
To lie
To rearrange
For it's time to go
And
I just know
I know
