

986-1000
Strength to act

A quick projection

Im contrite
I often lack
The will to fight
I still believe
There is a right way
A noble path
And yet i often hath
No will to fight
Once i did
I stood my ground
But digging deep i found
That for me
That battle was a battle not for change
But as a way to rearrange
My brain
To deflect away
A life so gray
but
That said
I look around and see about me those who have the strength to act
I know that they risk it all when we fail to have their backs
Through resolve They open themselves to all kinds of base attacks
And i marvel at their courage
When the ground beneath them shakes
I cannot begin to understand
The bravery it takes
To stand in the line of fire each and every day
This song is just one attempt for me to say
That you
With the strength to act
You
Are the ones who save us all
Were it not for you
We would fall
So to you who stand tall
I bow my head