

701-1000
Sure as shit

I know it's going to rain again
And i know i'll see the sun
I know that i'll still end up
Wherever it is i run
I know that in the end when i look back
I'll shake my head
And still i'll find some comfort
When i climb into my bed
Sure as shit, i know it, I know it sure as shit

I know that when all is said and done
It always comes around
The truth may hide in crevasses
Far deep underground
But when you shine a light on things
Eventually you'll see
That no one in the world
Loves you any more than me
Sure as shit i know it, i know it sure as shit

So go ahead and hate the things
That I say and that i do
Convince yourself that i'm the one
Who leaves you feeling blue
But years from now when you are Thinking back on what ive said
You'll wish that you had not believed
All the lies that you were fed
sure as shit i know it, i know it sure as shit
