Survey the damage

How can i survey the damage
When i don't know what i've done
That's the thing about dysfunction
It all seems like so much fun
It's impossible to calculate
All the hurting we have caused
When the filters through which i view
Are covered in my own unique gause

How can i survey the damage
When i don't know who i've hurt
Blindly i go through my life
My emotions are inert
Intellectually i know ive done some
Shiity things before
Its just hard to survey the damage
If i haven't been keeping score

How can i survey the damage
If everyone's at fault
Impossible to stop behaviors
There's no way to halt
We're victims of self-interest
Despite our guilt and shame
How can i survey the damage
When i cannot see the pain
