That's what i want

A preface a preface
A dubious song
I may have my wants
There is nothing wrong
But caveat emptor
Every desire
Moves us from peace
And into the fire

A coffee in hand, some chocolate to dip
A new lover beside me on every trip
The sun on my face, a soft glow in the air
Millions of dollars that I can share

The eyes of so many adoringly gazing
Saying and thinking that I am amazing
For as i have told you i'm like moon
Even when the sun is high on the noon

Or maybe i want a full character change
To feel deep contentment, now that would be strange
To not care one smidgen whether others approve
Just dancing along in my own psychic groove

I guess in the end what i want matters not
I am who i am and ive got what ive got
And onward i'll walk, on day at a time
I suppose that's the end of this rhyme
