The light is there

The light is there
It's always on
You needn't wait
Until the dawn
There is no switch
You need to pull
The light comes when
Your heart is full

The light is on
It's bathed in love
Some would say
From god above
Others claim
It's from within
It all depends
Where you begin

The light is on
In darkest times
When children fall
From others' crimes
When rent by grief
Beg for the day
When the light will take
Our pain away

But even in
These moments clear
When all around
some live in fear
We believe that love
Is never gone
And somehow know
The light is on
