

982-1000
the loop

Have a sense of humor
Don't get too caught up
All of us are tangled
As we try to be grown up
Recognize the pattern
Giggle at our brain
The beauty of being human
Is we're all a tad insane
Here's the way i run
The story that i hear
I'm chuckling as i write this
It couldn't be more clear
I crave the public's accolades
I strive to be on stage
When others grab the spotlight
I get stuck on that page
And if i'm not too careful
I end up in the loop
Accepting someone's offer
To be the leader of the group
And of course once i have ascended
I simply want to run
The irony of course
Is that i don't have fun
My intention is to live a life
Of peaceful quiet days
To love deeply my woman
Into her eyes i'll gaze
To sit and watch a river
To write a simple song
I do not want the spotlight
I've known that all along
And then if i'm not vigilant
My jealous nature grows
I see others so famous
And green envy through me flows
And soon i'm making plans
To give my own ted talk
To write a new best seller
And watch the people flock
It's silly and it's funny
This loop i zip around
But love dear love and happiness
I finally have found
So goodbye aspiration
Of glory and of fame
I have no true desire
To play that kind of game
And if you see me running
For office in the state
I give you full permission
My nature to berate
