The sun did not cease shining

The sun did not cease shining
The day my sister died
It burned a hole inside my head
I never even cried
It melted all the winter snow
And no matter how hard i tried
The sun did not cease shining

The sun did not cease shining
When the airplanes hit the wall
A lovely day across the bay
We watch the buildings fall
Can you believe how beautiful
Despite the deathly pall
And the sun did not cease shining

The sun did not cease shining
When my love boarded the plane
Tortured i drove home that day
Felt as if insane
A gorgeous autumn afternoon
Laughed mocking at my pain
And the sun did not cease shining

The sun did not cease shining
And above the clouds is lives
You may think it smiles down
But sadness it forgives
Sadness it forgives
