The world has given me

The world has given me
More than i deserve
Less than i deserve
Exactly what i deserve
I'll hold nothing in reserve
When i tell you
That the world has given me
It all

The world has given me
All the love a man could need
No one's the love so watch me bleed
Just enough i must concede
These lyrics are too much to read
And so i tell you
That the world has given me
Enough

The world has given me
Children and a loving wife
Health and a pretty long life
But i'm still dancing on the edge of a knife
No strife, all strife
The world has given me

Nothing
Everything
everything
