Things can be fixed

Things can be fixed
But not forever
Broken down
Then glued together
Torn asunder
Than sewn back up
Never whole
Like a leaky cup

Things can be fixed
But only fleeting
A race with time
Always competing
Mortality
Illusions spawn
Things can be fixed
And then soon gone

Things can be fixed
That aren't really broken
Hurtful words
Just misspoken
Unrealized dreams
At least we're dreaming
It's not the end
When we're still scheming

Why fix what isn't broken, that's my declaration
Broken is a state of mind, now our emancipation
Even in my imperfection, I am just a man
Then Together broken we all live, we do the best we can
